They then went to Hector, according to Giles's statement, and took him into the meeting, when he made his speech.

The sales of bright loose tobacco to-day show some little improvement in quality over last week, and prices continue strong and firm, especially on the better grades. There was an unusual demand for bright fillers to-day, and sales were quite large, and from all we can learn prices were generally very satisfactory. There is still a quiet demand for wrappers, but to-day's sales were much smaller than those of either yesterday or Monday. Other grades are quiet. Large offerings of dark tobaccos are expected next week.

Mr. James Orr, manager of Buchanan & Lyall's factory, of New York, was looking around the market to-day.

Messrs. E. L. Morton, of Clarksville, Va., and William R. Thomas, of Louisville, Ky, were also here to-day.

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET. CHICAGO, May 23.—There was no fat be found with to-day's wheat mark in the ground of activity, however mu-one swayed the market until the other was put out, but the preponderance was on the bear side. July wheat opened at 56½c, and closed at 56½c6½c.—the net change being about ½c.

Corn was strong during the entire session. At no time was there sympathy with the wheat market. July sold between $8½c35½c. and 57½c. closing at the outside—a gain of ½c. for the day.

Oats—It is universally claimed that the oat crop was injured by the late frost. This continues to be one of the strongest features of the trade in that grain. Today's market kept up well. Cash oats were in good demand and higher. July closed ½c. higher than yesterday.

Provisions—Shortly before the close there was a spurt in product on bidding hy local scalpers. There was nothing new in the situation, however, to warrant either an advance or a decline, and the general trade was very slack. The hog market was weak and lower, and that was the reason for an indifferent and easy opening. The weak wheat market furnished no speculative enthusiasm to provisions.
